RE: The Merger Application of Exelon Corporation, Pepco Holdings, Inc., Potomac Electric Power Company, Exelon Energy Delivery Company, LLC and New Special Purpose Entity, LLC (Formal Case No. 1119)

Dear Chairman Kane and Members of the Commission,

At its regular meeting on December 16, 2015, Advisory Neighborhood Commission 2A (“ANC 2A” or “Commission”) considered the above-referenced matter. With seven of seven commissioners present, a quorum at a duly-noticed public meeting, the Commission voted unanimously (7-0-0), after a motion made by Commissioner Kennedy and seconded by Commissioner Coder, to re-submit the previous resolution that ANC 2A passed at its regular meeting on April 15, 2015 regarding the proposal, which indicates that the Commission is opposed to the proposed merger.

In considering the above-referenced matter, ANC 2A took into consideration the settlement that Mayor Muriel Bowser’s Administration was able to reach with the applicants in the wake of the Public Service Commission’s previous rejection of the merger application. The Commission appreciates the hard work that the Mayor’s Administration put into negotiating a better deal for District residents, as well as the applicants’ willingness to increase the size of their investments in the District. However, ANC 2A still believes that, even with the settlement, the proposed merger is not in the best interests of the District of Columbia.

ANC 2A is especially concerned with the potential loss of locally based jobs, the inevitability that District ratepayers would be subsidizing the maintenance or decommissioning of Exelon’s aging nuclear power generation equipment, and the overall lack of long-term commitments included in the settlement - including the lack of durability in Exelon’s commitment to freeze rates. The ANC is also concerned more generally with a long-term loss of local influence, community involvement, and direct accountability that would result from the local utility being headquartered in Chicago as part of a much larger entity. In conclusion, ANC 2A does not believe that the short-term ratepayer incentives and concessions made in the settlement override the deleterious long-term ramifications of this utility consolidation, and therefore it recommends that the Public Service Commission reject this application as not being in the public interest.

Commissioner Patrick Kennedy (2A01@anc.dc.gov) is the Commission’s representative in this matter.

ON BEHALF OF THE COMMISSION.

RE: The Merger Application of Exelon Corporation, Pepco Holdings, Inc., Potomac Electric Power Company, Exelon Energy Delivery Company, LLC and New Special Purpose Entity, LLC (FC 1119)

Dear Chairman Kane and Members of the Commission,

At its regular meeting on April 15, 2015, Advisory Neighborhood Commission 2A (“ANC 2A” or “Commission”) considered the above-referenced matter. With seven of eight commissioners present, a quorum at a duly-noticed public meeting, the Commission approved the following resolution by a vote of (7-0-0):

ANC 2A opposes this merger, as outlined, for three principal reasons:

- The Commission believes that this merger would reduce the responsiveness of the local electric utility to District residents and, in the long-term, deprive the region of the level of investment and involvement in the area that it has come to expect from a public utility headquartered locally. As the host to Pepco’s former headquarters site for several decades, ANC 2A fully understands and appreciates the advantages of having an electric utility with corporate leadership based in the D.C. area, and believes that this arrangement ensures a level of accountability to local interests that would not be as pronounced in a corporate structure with top officials located in Chicago. The Commission would point the PSC to the negative experience of ratepayers and the public with utility mergers elsewhere, namely Florida customers of Duke Energy, in order to substantiate this point.
- ANC 2A is concerned about the possibility that current Pepco ratepayers might incur substantial costs in the future, should the merger be approved, due to Exelon’s heavily reliance on older nuclear facilities for power generation stock. It points out that costs to maintain, rehabilitate, or even decommission older nuclear power plants can run into the billions – if not tens of billions – of dollars, and that such costs would be passed through to current Pepco ratepayers.
- Our Commission believes that most – if not all – of the primary benefits for this merger, such as utilization of economies of scale in infrastructure and the potential reduction of redundancy in labor expenses, accrue to utility executives and shareholders rather than ratepayers. While Exelon has offered to prospectively return some portion of its revenue to ratepayers through rebates, ANC 2A expresses concerns that this offer only accrues to property owners, and that many renters who pay for utility expenses may not see this rebate passed through to them.

In any event, the Commission believes that the long-term deleterious effects of this merger outweigh any immediate benefits of direct compensation, and as such ANC 2A urges the Public Service Commission to reject the merger as proposed.
